Sister Angela's Girls 5

Rude, bizarre and imperfect. Sister Angela is an extraordinary and unusual nun with a turbulent past behind her, even serving a prison sentence where she found faith and received her call. Happily and lovingly, she watches over the Convent of Angels in the beautiful city of Fabriano, together with Sister Costanza, the mother superior.

Sister Angela's convent is a small world where the stories of each of our protagonists intertwine with the affairs of a small town that abounds with events and secrets... The series confronts social issues and human affairs, always finding positive solutions.

Even the stories present this season tackle delicate, current issues concerning both adults and adolescents, such as violence against women, the problem of fake news on the internet, social media defamation, the Blue Whale challenge, alcoholism in young people and much more...

The series on Rai 1 primetime achieved an average share of 24% and 5.5 million viewers.
